

Dear FCC,

I am a subscriber of XM Satellite radio. The objection of the Broadcast industry to local traffic and weather reports makes no sense for the public safety. Professional drivers use this system in a way that only benefits local traffic flows and accident avoidance. It is very difficult to find local stations with timely reports in strange cities. With XM, this convenience is as close as a button. I encourage you to reject this obvious grab by local broadcasters.

Respectfully,

Greg Carter
